A MINING SUIT AT LEADVILLE

Latest Development in the Mahala Litigation.

MUCH INTEREST IN OUTCOME

Taking of Evidence in Contempt Proceedings Occupied Two Days —Decision of Court Reserved

Special to the Gazette

Leadville July 13 A mining suit the outcome of which is being awaited with great interest is now taking the attention of Judge Owen in the district court here The ownership and management of one of the chief producers of the camp is involved in an almost endless maze of litigation the latest development being contempt proceedings instituted against several prominent business mining and professional men of this city

Up to within a short time the Mahala mine has ranked as one of the chief producers of the camp Work was commenced on this property some 10 years ago and with comparatively little outlay a paying mine was opened up In 1896 a company was incorporated with a capitalization of $1,000,000, and at several times the stock has been sold at nearly par Upwards of $1,000,000 in ore has been taken from the property several large boxes of sulphide rich in silver and carrying considerable values in gold being encountered The mine is in one of the best locations of the camp being situated adjoining the Small Hopes Wolf the Maid of Erin and other large producers.

Beginning of the Trouble

According to current reports the members of the company have never worked together very harmoniously Instead of laying up a reserve or doing development work at the time the ore was being extracted the profits were at once paid out in dividends so that last fall when the known ore bodies had all been worked out there was no money on hand to continue operations In the meantime a considerable flow of water had been encountered entailing an expense of about $5,000 per month for pumping Pumping was continued after the company became insolvent and obligations of over $5,000 incurred

Judgments and executions issued against the mine The property was sold at sheriff's sale last winter and bought by S M Mudd the present manager of the Mahala Possession of the property was obtained and the pumping continued at the expense of the greenback mine an adjoining property which would have been drowned out if the pumps had been pulled

In May last suit was commenced in the district court of Lake county by certain of the stockholders who alleged that the mine could be made to pay and offered to advance the money necessary to pay the indebtedness and take a lease on the property The complaint alleged that Charles Cavender the present county attorney of Lake county, had bought the certificate of sale had obtained a controlling interest in the stock of the company by fraudulent means and had caused a majority of the directors to resign and by these means and refusing to take part in a stockholders meeting left the company helpless The court be appointed and that Mr Cavender be enjoined from disposing of his certificate of purchase Both of these requests were granted Charles H

being appointed as receiver

Encountered Difficulties.

There were no obstacles placed in the way of Mr Stead when he attempted to take charge of the surface of the mine but difficulties immediately commenced when he went underground The old workings of the mine he found in the same condition in which they had been left but when attempting to pass in the direction of the Greenback mine the workings of which are connected with the Mahala company sloughs were discovered on ground presumably belonging to the Mahala company and although signs of having been recently worked all in order to prevent the further exploration of the mine some one commenced exploding giant powder in close proximity to the receiver and his party and at the same time threatened them with instant death if they did not leave the mine at once In Mr Stead's report of the occurrence to the court he states he has little doubt that the party who threatened him was Dennis O'Neil who is employed by L S Wood and Patrick Mullins who is the Greenback mine foreman superintendent of the Mahala who is one of the plaintiffs in the action and who was with the receiver at the time the threats were made estimates that ore to the value of over $1,000 has been removed from the Mahala ground through the adjoining property and that Cavender and other prominent men were parties to the grand theft

Contempt proceedings were at once instituted against the parties who are supposed to have interfered with the receiver the taking of evidence in the contempt case occupied two days of the district court which is now in session here The outcome of the case is still in doubt as the decision of the court has been reserved until August 5 and in the meantime efforts will be made to determine whether or not removal from the new stope was taken from the ground of the Mahala or the Greenback properties If from the Mahala Developments of an exceedingly sensational nature are expected

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Stocks

New York July 13—To day's stock market was but a dull and uninteresting affair and marked the fourth consecutive day of the accumulated rise in the early part of the week which came into evidence yesterday selling for profits was the order of the day and bears put out some fresh short lines That neither of these stops place on a very extensive scale is sufficiently shown by the small figures of the total sales of the day and the greater part of even those small dealings took place in the forenoon when the bull interests were still making futile efforts to continue the advance The efforts were not put forth in the opening transactions and the sympathetic depression from foreign markets was allowed its full effect The weakness there was due to renewed fears regarding the Chinese situation and to the mishap to the British forces in South Africa The effect here was purely sympathetic and when it was seen how small the selling for London account was the bulls braced their energies and attempted to resume control of the market The pressure of profit taking which it met the market when last night's revel was approached discouraged the attempt and the market lapsed into a listless state The sharp break in the wheat market which might fairly be said to be indicating a more hopeful feeling regarding the crop was powerless to sustain the stock market Small as the offerings were they were sufficient to drive prices sharply below last night's level The steel stocks became notably weak late in the day on a growing apprehension with general reaction in business which will curtail the consumption of requirements for iron and steel whatever the ultimate basis of prices may be A further advance in sterling exchange [illegible] the [illegible] Loan account and the continued drain on the gold reserves of the Bank of England led to the opinion among international houses that further shipments of gold from New York to Paris are likely to be made next week At the same time today's reduction in the discount rate of the Imperial bank of Germany and a further relaxation in the private discount rate in Berlin makes it probable that Berlin has been further reducing its loan obligations to New York Liquidation of foreign borrowing, accompanied by an export movement in gold would present an astonishing state of affairs

The bond market continued dull and the changes were mixed Total sales, par value $1,535,000

United States bonds were unchanged

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, July 13—The opening tone of wheat was firm September started up at an advance of ¼ to ⅜ at 60½@60¾ This was due entirely to pit trading the foreign markets being influenced by local speculators being influenced by adequate response to yesterday's decline here and to the [illegible] of the Chinese situation The strength disappeared almost immediately Reports from the northwest told of an improved condition of wheat as a result of rains and the cooler weather prevailing and figures on the crop given in today's Trade Bulletin were raised considerably This quickly changed the balance of trading in favor of the bears The weather [illegible] and the steady decline in the price finally discouraged longs and resulted in considerable liquidation which was kept up with more or less steadiness all day Towards the closing the market improved [illegible] covering by northwest traders who had put out wheat earlier in the week and who had good profits in sight The closing however was heavy though still little better than bottom prices

Corn was steady on the reports of extended hot weather in Kansas and Nebraska

Oats followed closely the fluctuations of corn

Provisions though rather dull, showed steadiness throughout the session

MAY EXPERIMENT HERE WITH LIQUID AIR

Colorado Springs business men may have an opportunity of testing the merits of liquid air as a power and refrigerant The Slayton Lyceum bureau of Chicago is endeavoring to secure an engagement for one of the demonstrators and as a first move has approached the chamber of commerce sending an interesting book of information and illustrations of the wonderful properties of liquified air which freezes fire and boils when put on ice It is said it does cook a [illegible]

GOT COLD THROW DOWN SO THEY BUILT A FIRE

It wasn't irrigation water and it wasn't rain or sun but it was something that nobody didn't know nothin about The crowd was sore and the park was dark so was the band stand The latter fact was the cause of the deprecations that were frequently heard through the crowd

Who was responsible?

The crowd?

The band?

The city?

The crowd blamed it on everybody but itself but the newspapers had said the band would play elsewhere and happened not to read the newspapers The band stand was dark and no one came to tell the people that the band was engaged at Temple theater who were informed of the situation found amusement by promenading through the park in silence and listening to the various theories and conjectural explanations of the absence of the band

One of the bonfire Rubbish and planks from the new court-house building were piled up and ignited and the gathering turned into a sort of camp meeting Until after 9 o'clock the park was swarming with impatient people and an hour later some sat about the fire swapping stories The concert announcements will be regularly published

F. D. PASTORIUS BUYS SYMPHONY ORGAN

The Hext Music company is exhibiting today a handsome symphony organ worth $600 which has been purchased through this house by F D Pastorius from Wilcox and White The instrument is a reed organ with full keyboard and accomplishment of 24 stops It will play from music rolls however and any style of music that is published can be rendered It is encased in mahogany of magnificent finish and will be one of the handsomest and most ornamental musical instruments in Colorado The purchaser has had a wall between two rooms arched to make an attractive music room in his home and the new instrument will be placed there in a few days

It received much admiration at the Hext Music Co's store yesterday and will be on exhibition there again today.

Ringling Brothers big circus will exhibit in Colorado Springs again Wednesday August 8 This will be the third visit of the show to this city and indications point to a most successful [illegible] Attendance at the performances there was but one verdict and that was that the Ringlings had given by far the best exhibition of its kind that had ever been seen in this city The show was of mammoth proportions while the programme was new novel and up to date in every sense of the word This year it is announced the show is bigger and better than ever and many unique features have been added This is true not only of the arena performance but also of the menagerie and other departments of the show The menagerie is especially strong this year Last season's display was a notable one but it is [illegible] During the past spring an immense consignment of rare wild animals was received from Ringling Brothers European agents Many of the animals in the new collection are quite new to this country while others are so rare that it is probable they can never be duplicated The great 61-horse act which created such a sensation last season has been retained but a number of other new animal acts have been secured and the performance is quite notable in this respect The herd of elephants now numbers 27 [illegible] zoological collections in the United States can muster [illegible] camels has also been added since last season and a novel feature of the parade is a great tableau car drawn by a team of ten dromedaries Among the late arenic acts are many quite new to this country The show has just completed a tour of the New England states where press and public were unanimous in their praise of the great exhibition The performances to be given here will be exactly the same as those presented in Boston and other large Eastern cities This is one of the many things for which the show is to be commended There is no complete circus that has ever visited this section of the country

THE REWARD OF INSINCERITY

THE insincerity of the Kansas City convention in declaring for free silver when two thirds of the convention were opposed to the revival of that issue is receiving its proper reward

The silver plank was adopted contrary to the sentiments of a majority of the delegates for the purpose of placating western Silver Republicans and Populists while the declaration against imperialism as the paramount issue was intended to smooth things over for the benefit of the east

But very properly both parties refuse to be placated. In the west nearly all the Silver Republicans many Populists and even some independent Democrats are disgusted with the abandonment of silver and declare that they will have nothing to do with the party that has shown the insincerity of all its pledges and professions On the other hand the easterners including thousands of Democrats in every state regard the indorsement of the Chicago platform and particularly the silver plank as confirming their belief that the Democratic party is entangled with anarchistic allies and ready to grasp at anything that offers the promise of a few votes and that therefore it is wholly unfit to be intrusted with the national administration at the present time

This is precisely what might have been expected

It is characteristic of the American people that they have no use for a trimmer The one thing above all others that has commended Mr Bryan to them is his absolute fearlessness and his manifest sincerity But the party that is behind him has given such an exhibition of its willingness to attempt the impossible task of holding the silver people in line while conciliating the Gold Democrats that the whole country is disgusted The Gold Democrats are not coming back and the silver men are deserting the party in great numbers

THE "SCUTTLE POLICY."

PRESIDENT McKinley's newest phrase is in reference to the Democratic proposition to haul down the flag from the Philippines

There must be no scuttle policy said the president [illegible] in a partisanly inconsiderately and with an element of fear and sneakiness as like scuttle from the pantry when suddenly disturbed And that is the way the Democrats want to get out of the Philippines to get out without regard to the interests of the island without regard to our international obligations without regard to future events but to get out anyway as quickly as possible scared by the shadow of imperialism on the wall

[illegible] the custom of certain mutineers or anti imperialists on shipboard who finding no other way to protect the cons[illegible] of the crew not from the tyranny of a captain and officers proceed to bore a hole in the bottom of the ship and let the water into the hold And that also is what the Democrats propose to do in the Philippines The inherent right of local independence must be maintained even if it amounts to an inherent right to local anarchy and if it cannot be obtained in any other way they propose [illegible] the hull of and our own in one common ruin

American sailors do not choose their sitting pro[illegible] in either [illegible]

It was General Dix who wrote If any man attempts to haul down the American flag shoot him on the spot [illegible] many years previous to another imperial American of the name of Lawrence linked his name with his sailor words on [illegible] Decatur is an American of the same kind He does not like the scuttle policy and so long as he remains in his present station we may be sure that it will not control in our national affairs

WHY SILVER REPUBLICANS REFUSE BRYAN.

IT is every day becoming more evident that the great majority of the Silver Republicans in Colorado will not any longer be bound by the commands entrusted or with of their leaders as Senator Teller and Mr Towne It will be said as has often been said before that any man who will not follow Teller blindly and forever is not worthy to be called a Silver Republican but the men who were in the party up to July 4 1900 have at last so far forgotten the name as have those who are now with every mark disclaim the name Democrats

Here is a fact that may [illegible] the fact remains that the Silver Republicans of Colorado are tired of that sort of fetishism which consists in continuing to elect Democrats to office for no other reason than that they are Democrats

A conspicuous instance of this sort of feeling is to be found in the letter by which Messrs Briggs and Perkins respectively chairman and secretary of the county central committee of the Teller Silver Republican party of Teller county presented their resignations to that committee The reasons for their action are expressed by them in simple and emphatic fashion They say the ability and the purpose of the Democracy to do anything for silver and they declare that outside of this one particular thing and in every important question of national policy they are Republicans and not Democrats And they close their letter with these ringing words which will find an echo in the hearts of thousands of patriotic men and women throughout Colorado

While retaining our faith in the wisdom and justice [illegible] through the Democratic party we deem it a hollow issue these other days it is useless to fight for it in this presidential campaign and we cannot support the party that opposes all that is best in the American people for the sake of a thing so futile protest against the gold standard We cannot vote to take a step backward in the march of American progress and prosperity We cannot vote against a greater America a greater west and greater Colorado we will not vote against the party that holds up the flag of our country and sustains the righteous cause for which the best blood of America has been shed because of this [illegible] Democratic party

The failure to secure the Elks home for this city at the present time is not to be taken as a definite abandonment of the project On the contrary there is good reason to believe that if the home had been located anywhere else this year it would have come to Colorado Springs and the decision of the grand lodge to be held at Milwaukee next year is altogether likely to be in our favor

The Gazette takes pleasure in acknowledging from the traffic department of the Sonora railway a handsomely [illegible] pamphlet [illegible] Mexico [illegible] the Sonora and its seaport Guaymas have much of interest and value in them and this little book does it in the most attractive way A copy will be [illegible] ing a two cent stamp for postage

THE DEMOCRATIC REMEDY FOR TRUSTS.

THERE are a great many absurd things in the Democratic platform but nothing among them all more unreasonable than the remedy proposed for trusts

What it amounts to in effect is that the Democracy is in favor of the abolition of trusts but is opposed to any laws that will be effective to abolish them It demands that the whole constitutional power of congress shall be exercised in the enactment of comprehensive laws when it knows perfectly well that the constitutional restrictions are such that congress cannot act effectively at the present time It denounces the Republican congress for failure to enact anti trust laws regardless of the fact that Democratic votes have been recorded almost unanimously against the constitutional amendment which was intended to make such legislation possible And finally it recommends that the products of trusts be placed upon the free list regardless of the facts that the worst of the trusts are not subject to international competition and that for the ones that are to throw down the tariff would be simply to turn production away from Americans and over to foreigners

If the Democratic party undertook to legislate against trusts according to this platform it would proceed on the same principle and with about the same success as when it undertook to establish a free trade tariff for revenue only with its Wilson bill There were only three troubles with that. It was not a free trade measure it all It did not furnish sufficient revenue for the country's needs And it protected every one who had sufficient pull with the ways and means committee of the Democratic leaders of congress and it left unprotected enough of the product of the trusts of the United States to spread ruin and devastation as long as it remained a law I will be to press the Democratic idea would be the most irreparable harm to the business interests of the country would be the result of a Democratic experiment in trust regulation along the lines of the Kansas City platform

A GOOD THING FOR SPAIN.

WE are pleased to learn that the late war with the United States was a good thing for Spain

It was a good thing for the United States all right both in cementing the ties that bind the nation together and in other ways and if Spain can get any benefit out of it also so much the better

The Spanish gentleman who has been acting as Spanish consul in the city of Chicago says that the nation had been giving its best men and $100 000 000 annually for the wars in Cuba and the Philippines and now that she is released from that tremendous drain she is in a fair way to become one of the leading nations of Europe

We hope it is so but we do not believe it

Outside of the resentment felt over the Maine disaster [illegible] an almost total lack of hatred on the part of the people of the United States towards those of Spain and we would be glad to hear of their good fortune

But it was not the money spent in the Indies east or west nor the soldiers who were sent to satisfy the never ending demands of the governor general It was the cruelty the superstition the intolerance oppression, dishonesty and the bigotry of which those governors were so conspicuous an example that has thrown Spain down from the high position she once occupied If these things were reformed if the sentiment that characterizes a noble part of her people could be made national there would be [illegible] of national expenditures nor in the raising of regiments of men

POVERTY AND DISTRESS IN PUERTO RICO.

IT must have been a supreme source of wonderment to [illegible] Democratic platform—if they ever read anything so silly that they are doomed to poverty and distress by the [illegible]

It had been the opinion of the leaders up to the time the Kansas City convention passed that immortal combination of inane rhetoric and jimmy rot that the new tariff [illegible] over the tariff laws that their conditions could be brought to conform exactly with those of the other territories of the United States It was supposed by the islanders that the exemption from internal revenue taxes was a concession of the highest value to them and that the slight tariff levied upon imports and exports from the United States was a very easy and comfortable way of providing the revenue necessary to carry on the government and public institutions of the island But then it should be borne in mind that the Puerto Ricans have not the inherent dislike towards a protective tariff that exists in Democratic minds neither have they had the benefit of Populist orators to instruct them in the knowledge of how miserable they have been without knowing it With rapidly increasing production and a profitable trade they have been foolish enough to believe that they were happy and owing to the importance of Philippine affairs they have not even learned from the anti imperialists that they were being oppressed by a tyranny worse than Spain's

All of which goes to indicate that the man who is not [illegible] in his dislike of the Democratic platform may learn something from it—new things even about himself which he never before suspected

FOREST FIRE PROTECTION.

FOR the next few months of the year is the time when forest fires are most apt to happen and do the largest amount of damage The circular just issued by the general land office is therefore valuable and contains a salutary warning to those persons through whose carelessness most of these fires originate

The law relating to the matter is a still one and its principal provisions are as follows

That any person who shall willfully or maliciously set on fire or cause to be set on fire any timber under brush or grass upon the public domain or shall leave or suffer fire to burn unattended near any timber or other inflammable material shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the same shall be fined in a sum not more than five thousand dollars or be imprisoned for a term of not more than two years or both

Sec 2 That any person who shall build a fire in or near any forest timber or other inflammable material upon the public domain shall before leaving said fire totally extinguish the same Any person failing to do so shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in any district court of the United States having jurisdiction of the same shall be fined in a sum not more than [illegible] imprisoned for a term of not more than one year or both

Sec 3 That in all cases arising under this act the fines collected shall be paid into the public school fund of the county in which the lands where the offense was committed are situated

The worst thing about these fires aside from the immense amount of damage that they do is that they are in nearly every case wholly unnecessary It is therefore fitting that the guilty persons should be severely punished and the enforcement of the law will in nearly every case command the general approval of the public who are vitally interested in the preservation of the forests and the protection of the public range from fires

Governor Thomas has been selected to make a speech notifying Mr Stevenson of his nomination for the vice presidency The cause of the selection is evidently the [illegible] ernor's speech at Kansas City

The fight in Denver between the Thomas faction and the Maloney faction of the Democratic party goes merrily on When either finds among his appointees a man or two who sympathizes with the other faction off goes his head quicker than you can say Jack Robinson One faction is to organize an umbrella brigade—the other will probably counter by organizing a shillalah brigade—(Manitou Journal

The gold issue is a dead issue while incorporated in the Democratic platform it lacks the vigor of youth It looks like a [illegible] with the new issue of imperialism Now if the Democratic stockholders will kindly inform a patient and long-suffering people just what imperialism is we will be able to tell whether or not we have it It appears like a political lackey—(Cleveland Leader

As a significant straw showing the drift of public sentiment when the announcement was received at the Republican headquarters last evening of Bryan's nomination instead of a spontaneous burst of enthusiasm it was received with cat calls and hisses and the crowd ended the matter by giving a cheer for McKinley Of course the election might be decorated but verily it doth show a change of heart—(Ouray Mail

The complaints that are going in from all sections of Colorado clearly indicate that there is a big screw loose somewhere in the present system of taking the census Either the enumerators are chosen without due regard for their fitness or they are given too much territory to cover in the specified time Probably both reasons have considerable to do with the unsatisfactory work done which renders our census taking something of a farce—(Rico News Sun

The small vote cast for Towne was indicative of the strength of the sixty to one proposition at the Democratic convention The great majority of the delegates were opposed to Colonel Bryan at heart and wanted to repudiate his free silver fanatics They only [illegible] their candidate Towne will not have as many votes this fall as he received in 1896 and Colorado will assist materially in bringing about a realization of this prophecy—(La Junta Tribune

The speech of Governor Thomas of Colorado temporary chairman of the Democratic convention at Kansas City was in marked contrast with that of Senator Wolcott at the Republican convention at Philadelphia Governor Thomas has frequently been spoken of as the peer of Colorado and his speech certainly chilled his audience to the freezing point While Wolcott's speech was one grand flow of praise for American and her achievements that of Governor Thomas was one of wailing and calamity howling and disparagement of American prowess and achievements The Republican party refusing that Governor Thomas was appointed to sound the keynote of the campaign for a more illogical and unprogressive argument could not have been produced every thought of which is disproven—by living facts—(Silt Lorum

The result of our conference said president Martin last night we will be in line up of the railway men for or against either ticket at least for the present The old line parties are represented in our membership and we will see as they please on all national affairs and of course on all other affairs so far as they care to The organization will make it plain to both the old parties however that the laboring people want recognition in the state platforms for the Colorado campaign and that unless they put representation on the ticket which it will be put up for the state [illegible] get from both parties will be sought and the party that gives us the most we will help all that is in our power

We realize the importance of the national issues but we must not forget our own interests and it is through the state platforms and the state tickets that we must expect to make progress

Democrats Prepare for The "Towne" Meeting

The big meeting of the Democratic club last night to act on membership and distribute tickets to the Towne meeting which will be held in Temple theater this evening came off Twenty six persons by actual count including the janitor and Morris Summer of Utah were present Thirty nine new members were received and a reception committee of 50 was appointed to meet Mr Towne in a body at the Alta Vista this morning

The several hundred tickets that were distributed yesterday on the streets and at the meeting last night for the nearly two hundred club members will be held at the office of the club and the reserved section will be opened to the general public after that hour The club officials are particular that this announcement be observed

The gathering last night was treated to some Democratic speaking and in-

When the question of buttons came up a knowing gentleman of all at the meeting stating as Governor Thomas but [illegible] was positive that the Republican club of El Paso county had received 600 buttons and had already distributed them

Van Houseworth president of the club then boasted that he had taken [illegible] had seen a whole ditch full of them where men had thrown them [illegible] known by the Republicans and said the El Paso Democrats had received their order from headquarters which was originally proposed by Mr Houseworth and there is 600

When routine business had been disposed of the meeting for a talk from Morris Summer of Salt Lake who had lived in Colorado Springs twenty years ago when he could not speak English I live in the land of Zion by the river Jordan where the milk and honey flows said Mr Summer and it is all red full of Democrats I am a member of every German American society between Denver and the coast and I want to say that every one of them wants to see McKinley defeated this fall As sure as there is a Heaven above us these societies which hold the controlling vote of Democracy will come in to a man and vote for Bryan

Mr Summer was generously applauded

The reception committee was chosen and all members were requested to be on hand at the Alta Vista hotel at 10 this morning Mr Towne will arrive at 10 and a sub committee of the reception committee will escort him to the hotel where the full committee will meet him in a social way

IOWA STREET BOUGHT BY HOUSE MOVERS

A stranger went into a Tejon street drug store last night and after seating himself on a stool in front of the soda fountain inquired the way to Iowa street

Why, that's right up at the next corner said the fountain tender

Been closed? asked the stranger

No Bryan's been let out to the Deaf and Dumb school

It is closed tonight or I'm loon y I thought I knew the street and when I left the hotel it was to go due east to the corner where I remembered distinctly being when here last summer but supposed I was lost When Kum ne I out Tejon street there was a house at the other end of the block right across the street as it were and I suppose I looked any way as the street did not look logical

Oh explained the tender they are moving a house and it is probably blocking Kiowa street tonight They were a way out here of moving big houses and leaving them so as to block street in the evening

Last night after the electric lamps had been extinguished the house received so that a pedestrian whose sight was not keen would have tun plump into the walls in crossing Nevada on Kiowa before he could have noticed the obstruction The movers might have worked a little later and left the street clear

But probably they bought the street

LITTLE PUCK AND SANTA RITA

Litigation Threatened--Shipment from the Camp and Ish Lease on the Homer of Atlas Con. Co.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek, July 13. It was rumored around town to day that litigation is threatened between Little Puck and Santa Rita people. The Climax Nos. of the Little Puck company, as shown by a map overlapped the Santa Rita. The latter named claim holding the oldest location the vein rights as between the two companies is a matter of record. Recently the Santa Rita mine operated by the Atlantic Mining company has attracted wide attention to Squaw mountain on account of its phenomenal shipments of high grade ore. The Climax No. of the Little Puck company has also showed exceedingly good values at near surface. A number of parties in Colorado Springs capitalists supposedly the Edsall Key syndicate is operating on a big block of this ground and has just installed a fine plant of machinery. The lessees have hit the bottom of the shaft in streak of a little rock that will pay well. Manager Grant who was interviewed today by your correspondent admitted that injunction proceedings had been set but at the same time asserted that so far as this company was concerned there was no thought of encroaching on the veins which are clearly distinct and on company's lot at rights defined in the patent settlements of record.

The Camp and Ish lease on the Homer of the Atlas Consolidated company has been working quietly for several months past and it is now learned that these people have a surprise in store for stockholders of that company in the form of a shipment. Some 60 tons of rock has been saved from surface workings. The lessees estimate from numerous assays that the output will repay them for all in every way far expected. They believe that they have located the source of the gold. If their expectations are realized they will from that time install a plant of machinery and work the property on an extensive scale. The Ida May of the Portland company has shipped a few sacks of highly concentrated ore. It is back in the old rich pipe with the prospect of money. It will proved at most rich pipe copper mountain in the style so far as that may be in fact in that block of ground be has to contend with.

John Butler will make a shipment the first part of the week of about ten tons. This ore is being taken from a narrow streak in the Columbia in the drift from the 100 foot level.

C. C. Howell the young relative of the First National banker has secured from the Magnet Rock Gold Mining company the Vanderbilt on the Sherman claim. There is a shaft on the property 60 feet. Mr. Howell will commence immediately to develop the claim.

RICH ORE FOUND IN A. J.

A Bonanza Ore Body Exploited in the Sixth and One-Half Level just Opened--Mine Entirely Unwatered

Within the past few days there has taken place in the Argentum Junior mine near Aspen, what is the most important development in the recent history of the property. In the seventh level at a distance of something more than 600 feet from the shaft a body of ore has been encountered which is known to be the same one which was exploited in the sixth and one half level last year and which netted the company between $60,000 and $70,000.

There has not been enough work done at the scene of the strike to prove that this level or not but the fact that it is less than 40 feet below the level where it was continuous is a warrant for the same body of ore both as regards extent and richness has been proved up in this level as in the one above.

So far as the richness of the ore is concerned the assays which have been obtained from this new strike are simple astonishing the fact that the ore is scarcely in the level as it was above. Those which have been taken at random at various points between 60 and 100 tons samples of 1 to 10 tons have returned values of 200 to 400 ounces.

For two years the mine below the sixth one half level has been full of water and only just recently has the seventh level been accomplished. As soon as it had been unwatered prospecting was at once begun aiming to open the ore at that depth which had been mined above. Very little work was needed to do this as the ore was found directly below the place where it was found before.

In the sixth and one half level the directors of the company have laid out a comprehensive plan of development which is now being carried out and of which the prospecting work in the seventh level and the opening of the rich ore shoot are merely incidents.

The primary object of the directors was to effect the recovery of the tenth or bottom level of the mine afterwards to prosecute such development as was advisable. At that time the water level was just below the point where the rich ore had been mined in the sixth and one half level and the first step was to recover the seventh level which was accomplished by Pelton sinking pumps. This was effected some time ago after which work was begun on the steps which were necessary to put the seventh level into shape for mining after its being submerged. The tenth prospecting work started by the result in the opening of the one above mentioned.

Meantime however the task of recovering the tenth level of the mine the next below the seventh which has never been unwatered was not by any means neglected.

In order to lower the water to the tenth level of the Argentum Junior mine the plan called for the utilization of the Nine Mile shaft No. 1 using the water with sinking pumps to the thirteenth level of that mine which is a continuous working with the tenth level of the Argentum Junior. The work of [illegible] and the other undertaking a tremendous task has been all but completed. The Nine Mile is now

When it is possible prospecting will be started in the tenth level looking to the opening of the rich ore body at that depth which has just been discovered.

LEASE MAY BE SOLD

Moses Giddings and Lennox Said to Be After a Part Interest in the Lease on the Unexpected Claim

It is understood that negotiations are on foot in regard to the sale of a one-half interest in the lease on the Unexpected claim of the Central Consolidated company.

Mr. W. J. Morris one of the two lessees is now in this city and although he would make no definite statement in regard to the matter it was learned on very good authority that Messrs. Giddings and Lennox have made overtures to him to sell them his interest in the lease, having offered him $4,000 for it. They are said to make the offer on the testimony of Mr. Sam Mellen who is the other owner in the lease and who is also manager of the Strong mine. As the mining world knows that Mr. Mellen [illegible] own a large interest in the Strong mine and is a very conservative man it is believed that Mr. Mellen would not make such an offer unless he was sure of the value of the property. It is known that Mr. Morris is also willing to sell his interest in the lease, having offered it to Mr. Mellen for $4,000. Mr. Morris is said to be the man who discovered the Unexpected strike.

It would seem however as if $4,000 were a rather small price for a one half interest in a bonanza lease and Mr. Morris evidently is of that opinion for he has made the statement that he will not sell his interest for less than the sum of $5,000. Lennox is said to have made the statement that he would put with his interest of not less than the sum of $5,000. Lennox is said to have made the statement that he would put with his interest of not less than the sum of $5,000 at which he held it directly after the strike had been made.

It is thought that if the strike grows in importance and all of the local mining men who have seen it are of the opinion that it is a big property [illegible] the lease will be opened and developed. The ore body has been opened for 13 feet in width and neither wall of the vein has yet been reached.

STRIKE ON BONNIE BELL

There has been made a good strike on the Bonnie Bell lease of the Bonnie Bell company. At a depth of 120 feet from the surface in a cross cut at a distance of 40 feet from the shaft the vein was cut which the lessees believe at the depth of 60 feet. The vein is very massive and a good sample from the vein assays $[illegible].

The showing on the lease is so promising that several parties representing capital have been looking it over and it is probable that it will be transferred. It is see [illegible] that a plant of machinery but no too small to work to a great depth and the new lessee will install a larger plant and sink at once for which purpose one is now in sight. It is clearly indicated that depth is needed before anything big can be expected.

On the company workings on the Bonnie Bell steam drills have just been installed and are giving great satisfaction. At a depth of 200 feet the company is following up stringers which keep opening larger together into the largest of the lift to catch the Jo Daniels vein.

NEW STRIKE ON ELKTON

A new strike has been made on the property belonging to the Elkton company and it is said to be large extent responsible for the great strength which the stock is developing on change.

The strike has been made on the Maid of Erin claim which formerly belonged to the Elkton company. At the depth of 600 feet from the surface a fine fissure vein has been encountered which carries good assaying $40 in gold to the ton. The strike has not been followed far enough to prove its consistency but it is one of certainly new vein is by no means automatically not the Elkton company.

Sensational mining news abroad was too last week for that little town to be overcome by the news of this same shaft the gossips affecting that it ran as high as $3,000 to the ton and that it was over a foot wide. More over it was said that its ore carrying was not in the smoking through a fault formation but in digging in a pile of loose country rock which had been thrown in to conceal the bonanza streak by some miscreants who were trying to [illegible] the Elkton company.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

The stock of Robert Burns exchanged hands in mining circles yesterday selling up over [illegible] cents. The lessees of this strong advance is learned from Mr. W. J. Morris who has a lease on the Big Bill claim adjoining that company. It will be remembered that Mr. Morris is also half owner in the lease on the Unexpected [illegible] which has been so productive of good results. MUCH ACTIVITY AND GROWTH IN REAL ESTATE CIRCLES

Another Big Sale on North Tejon Street is Reported.

BY WILLS AND COMPANY

Property Involved is the Old Collins Livery Site Bought by A T Jones and H M Blackmer—Will Be Improved at an Early Date.

Another big real estate transaction was reported last night by the firm of Henry Lee Wills & Co.

It transfers from Mrs Sarah D Anders wife of Dr L P Anders to A T Jones and Henry M Blackmer the property now occupied by the livery stable opposite the North Park on Tejon st.

The consideration is $15 300.

The negotiations for the transfer of this property have been pending for some time. The deal was practically consummated about two weeks ago but some details were to be closed up and the sale was not made public until yesterday when the deed was recorded in the office of the county clerk.

Will Be Improved.

The most gratifying feature in connection with this such announcements as this is the business community of the city is the further announcement that the sale of the land in question means the erection of a substantial business block in the near future. Mr Jones does not allow his property to long remain idle and the present case will be no exception to the rule.

The purchasers have not as yet determined just what kind of a building they will erect but the property will not long remain unimproved. The other business properties in the vicinity which are owned by Mr Jones are mostly one story buildings but as the foundations capable of holding higher structures and the demand for room in that section of the city will be met Another sale reported yesterday by Henry Lee Wills & Co is that of a residence site 100x140 feet in size at the northwest corner of Dublex Place and Wood avenue. This piece of property [illegible] and will be improved with a handsome home.

The consideration involved in this transaction is $4 000.

The property lies just north of that which has been acquired recently by G C Hemenway R P Davis and S K Bartlett and will be essentially a portion of the residence tract that is going to be beautified in the near future. Mr Aldrich acquires in connection with this property an interest in the land which runs back from Wood avenue to the creek and which is going to be improved as a private residence park by the adjoining owners. [illegible] handsome residence towns in the entire state of Colorado

KAVANAGH AND RONEY'S BOYS GIVE MATINEE

The company will give them three [illegible] on Monday night and the [illegible] will doubtless be very largely attended. His voice is a [illegible] baritone—full [illegible] clear and [illegible] of the most [illegible] The quartettes duets and trios were pleasing [illegible] of the programme and the Rooney [illegible] encore brought down the house.

ON TO PEKIN

Policy Adopted by the United States Government is to Get in Touch With Conger

Washington July 12 — On to Pekin is the policy adopted by our government. It is said that regardless of the issues raised as to the authenticity of the last Chinese note or the accuracy of the statement of fact or the question raised as to the responsibility for the present situation our government at least is determined not to relax its efforts to reach Pekin to get in touch with Mr Conger if he is alive to take [illegible] for the protection of American interests and by virtue of all those things set out in Secretary Hay's note to the powers in July [illegible] Pekin [illegible] various events of the past six weeks.

Steady Gain in Business Necessitates More Help.

BY CHARLES P. BENNETT

Ira J H Sykes Will Become Identified With This Well-Known House on August 1st—Prosperity Rewards Business Integrity

The announcement has been made by Mr Charles P Bennett the well known man that on Aug 1 the working force of his office will be increased by the addition of Mr Ira J H Sykes.

This announcement is but one of the many indications of the progress and growth that is being made by the real estate firms of the city and particularly by Mr Bennett. This well known real estate man has been in the city for seven or eight years and has built up his present prosperous and extensive business from the very ground. He is regarded universally among business men as a man of strict integrity and has always made it a rule of his office to represent business matters to his patrons exactly as an investigation would prove them to be.

Career of Mr. Sykes.

Mr Ira J H Sykes who is to become connected with Mr Bennett's business on the first of the month is [illegible] and is well known and esteemed by most of the business men of this community. He has for several years past been the secretary of the Lennox Furniture company, which is now being conducted by Mr Fred S Tucker, who bought the business a few months ago.

Prior to his connection with Mr John L Lennox however Mr Sykes was one of the active real estate men of the city, and he is therefore in touch with real estate conditions of the city and with the business generally. He was for years the manager of the real estate business of E G Rowe continuing in this capacity until the death of Mr Rowe, soon after which the business was closed up.

The real estate circle and business community generally will welcome the return of Mr Sykes to the real estate ranks and will feel that the heavy strong and prosperous business of Mr Bennett cannot fail to be materially strengthened by the addition of the services of a man whose ability and integrity are so well known as those of Mr Sykes.

Among the properties recently sold by Mr Bennett are the following. The house No 140 North Tejon street now the residence of Mr Frank Waters which was purchased by Mrs George W Trimble from Mr J W Miller. Mr and Mrs Powell will shortly take up their residence in this property.

Lots [illegible] and 10 block [illegible] Edwards addition at the southwest corner of [illegible] was sold from Clement B Smyth to Lucy R Hemming. Mr Hemming contemplates building on this property.

A 50 foot lot on Dales court from H J Hemenway to Henry Hine. Another lot of the same frontage was sold from Mary J Fry also to Henry Hine.

The northwest corner of [illegible] and Nevada avenue 100x100 was sold from Mrs Ella C Frost to C S Wilson.

Nevada avenue 50x140 was sold from [illegible] to Charles P Shepherd.

Lot 15 block 6 in the Edwards addition on the west side of Nevada in [illegible] Charles P Shepherd. Mr Shepherd will build on the property [illegible]

A lot in the east side of Wood avenue on the 1800 block was sold from the Colorado Springs company to Mrs Mary J Fry.

Mr Bennett has also sold a tract of 17 acres in Fifth city and Twenty the Curtis gold mines to the Colorado Springs Electric company. On this tract of land directly adjoining it this company is to erect its power plant.

Through the agency of Mr Bennett Mr William Cairns has bought a lot 100x150 feet on Bijou street just west of Tejon and expects to begin very soon the building of a dwelling [illegible]

Although we do not apologize here the overturn of government yesterday is believed to be pregnant with meaning.

The news from Tien Tsin of the unsatisfactory relations between the allied forces goes to confirm the war department officials here in their original conclusion that two or three brigades of American troops veterans of the Indian wars of the Cuban campaign and of the Philippine jungle hunts could have achieved some valuable results by this time had they been at Tien Tsin.

showed great sympathy and a de editor his manner was quite famil

position and grammar He said not—at some time of their lives something for, which they might been put in prison The editor

tained that the men inside prison represented a high a level of in ence as men elsewhere and said particularly surprised the visitor the greater part of the 200 con tors from Sing Sing prison had no served more than one term, the on being in his opinion that the tagers had thought more about the itions of crime than those serving first term They are wise guys know what they are writing about answer to a question as to the rity of the contributors the editor that there was no doubt more or hypocrisy among them but no than obtained elsewhere He ght that 75 per cent of the articles ceived were sincere expressions of on The superintendent remarked since the length of time is serve not shortened by the character of contributions there was no par ar reason why they should not rally be sincere but he added that is deplorable to suppose a good articles which reflected on jai ar keepers because some of the ers would know the writer by the number signed and would have it him if they were roasted He commented rather severely on the ter of prison officials pointing ularly to the inordinately fond ation of their petty authority said that many of the prisoners are of far greater intelligence than the appointed to take care of them

In regard to reform the superintendent believed that at least 500 men in Sing Sing prison were willing and able to lead honest lives For the parole bill he said he would work as long as he was on earth Many men he thinks are reformed long before their terms expire and that after that they degenerate physically and mentally by being kept in prison and brutalized by confinement and forced into the life again It is enough for some men to reform he thinks to appear in court the prison stripes turn the hearts of others. Therefore for men guilty of first offense short time sentences given he thinks and pointed indignantly to the fact that some first-terms are longer than second and third terms for the same offense The superintendent's words recalled the remarks of a famous criminal Austin Bidwell who robbed the Bank of England of a million dollars He got a life sentence but after many years was pardoned and when he came to this country was asked by Josiah Flynt the tramp and criminologist, what kind of imprisonment he thought was most effective as a preventative of crime

I believe answered Bidwell in short terms not more than two or three years but I believe that the time spent in prison ought to be made hell for the prisoner.

Bidwell announced himself not reformed by his long imprisonment and said he believed long term men in general emerged broken down and with a rancorous sense of the injustice of society

The editor and the superintendent readily admitted that although a large number are reformed a large proportion of the several term men look upon thief as their permanent trade and confidently intend to steal as soon as they are released These are confirmed criminals old guns who are here for all identified with the life and many of these men write for the Star of Hope The superintendent told of one young criminal whom he had questioned

Where are you going when you leave?

To New York

What are you going to do there?

I am going to steal That is my profession

The inmate editor laughed and said that many felt that way but that few were frank—enough to say so but this seems likely enough for probably two thirds of the men in Sing Sing are professional thieves

OF INTEREST TO MINING PEOPLE

COLORADO'S BEST LOOKING GOLD CAMP.

Such was the assertion of Deputy Mine Inspector Clifford after a three days examination of the mines and prospects of East and West Mancos made on Friday Saturday and Sunday last under escort of Geo Bauer

Mr Clifford's official duties all him to every mining camp in the state and he said that it was with much reluctance he undertook that visit as he had been frequently advised that the district was worthless and all to keep it alive was the desire of a few prospectors to unload upon tenderfoot investors The situation will hereafter be viewed in a different light in the official mining department

Mr Clifford will start the report with the broad assertion that nowhere in Colorado can be seen so much surface indications of ore bodies as here and that in the amount of development no other camp in the entire western mining region can show as great a number of tons of pay ore

He noted with care the four contacts that have been so lightly exploited and drew his own deductions therefrom Like every posted mining man he declares those contacts to be mere overflows from the great mother vein breaking through the apex of the mountain (or hog back) that divides the east and west branches of the Rio Mancos and which has a northeast and southwest trend He noted the strong fissures that entered the hogback from both sides and which intersects the mother vein at right angles These things with the thousands of tons of good-grade ore developed by so little work confirmed him in the belief that this will prove to be the phenomenal gold district of North America

As to the treatment of the ores he believes that the chlorination method will be the preferable one because that will save the values of both the oxidized and sulphide quartz No doubt soon the sulphide ores will largely predominate and then the cyanide process would become valueless

He recommends development by at least two adits—one-half mile apart run in on the third contact until the mother lode is intersected To do this an expenditure of not less than $20,000 will be required This expenditure need not necessarily be all inclusive because by the erection of a small plant—say one of a capacity of 50 tons per day—the proposition would be more than self paying

The most conservative estimate he made was a gold value of $25 per ton on the ore exposed from an average 3 foot streak of two feet He believes that power drills should be used because of more hurried development and in the long run at one half the cost of hand drilling

Mr Clifford will not keep mum about the district On the contrary he will tell the numerous mining investors who are ever making inquiry of him the exact conditions obtaining here That anything will be a safe investment here

In the near future Mancos will be a large gainer by this first official visit from the mining department of the state because he will immediately interview some capitalists who are contemplating a personal visit to the
as they have interviewed him —(Mancos Times.

Curran's Prospects.

Copper production in the United States for the total output for the first three months of the current year having been 111 16 long tons which is a gain of 9 46 tons or 12 per cent over last year It is noticeable that only a small part of this increase 2 665 tons—came from the large mines which report to the statistician the other 6 740 tons coming from the outside sources that is the small mines which do not report and the smelters which handle ores having their chief values in gold silver lead and metals other than copper

The increase in exports has been much larger than that in production the total shipments reaching 7 643 long tons for the five months Included in this however is some copper refined from the Chile bars which were sent over here for treatment several months ago as well as some Bolero copper refined here and some from Mount Lyell Making allowance for this the exports of copper from the United states mines have been very large and amounted to over 60 per cent of the production The consumption of copper in Europe continues very large The recent increase in the exports is probably due to the fact that refiners and manufacturers who had allowed their stocks to run very low have been forced to come into the market for supplies —(Engineering and Mining Journal

COLORADO SPRINGS AS AN ORE TREATMENT POINT.

The approaching completion of the railroad between this city and the Cripple Creek district calls special attention to this vicinity as a favorable location for plants for the treatment of the Cripple Creek gold ores Already we have the immense Colorado Philadelphia reduction works at Colorado City and it has been well known for some time that two of the big mining companies the Portland and the Anchoria Leland and possibly others were contemplating the erection of ore treatment works as soon as the new railroad was completed

There are several reasons which tend to make Colorado Springs a good site for reduction works, and especially for those of the class contemplated by the two companies just referred to Colorado Springs will be, under the new conditions more easily accessible to the district than any other city outside of the limits of Cripple Creek and the ore can be easily and cheaply brought to the works Besides that, we have plenty of cheap land a sufficient supply of water and an abundance of cheap coal but the most important thing bearing in mind our prospect as a great ore reduction center is the fact that a large number of the richest and largest producers of Cripple Creek are owned in this city It is far better business for such companies as the Portland—the Anchoria Leland and others of this class to have their own mills than it is for them to depend upon the somewhat uncertain service of custom plants It is also noteworthy in this connection that the new railroad is controlled by the same interests that are expected to erect new mills at Colorado Springs and vicinity

These new mills are also likely to bring about an important development in the Cripple Creek district in that it will tend toward the treatment of low grade ores which are now thrown at the custom works When a smelter or reduction works takes in our tributary many different mines, and especially when the supply of ore exceeds the capacity of the works as has been the case at Cripple Creek during a great deal of the time in recent years there is always a natural tendency to accept the ores that are richer and consequently those that are poorer and possibly require more skill in their treatment

Where the mills are owned by individuals or companies the tendency is to treat all the ore that will pay for the cost of working and also in the opinion of many the reduction of the cost of treatment

Anyone who knows the situation at Cripple Creek knows how important these things are A comparatively small reduction in the cost of mill treatment means an immense gain in the tonnage that can be profitably worked and also in the list of producing mines. There are tons of high grade ore trainloads of medium grade but mountains of low-grade ore and nearly all of the larger Cripple Creek companies have immense amounts of ore that is just below the limit of present profitable production

With the establishment of the company mills near Colorado Springs where they can be constantly under the inspection and direction of the officers of the companies that own the ore we may expect to see some notable improvement in the gold reduction processes and a very large increase in the Cripple Creek production

In the notice of the destruction of the 500-stamp mill at the Commonwealth mine Prescott Ariz last Sunday is the fact that the man at the hoist stuck to his post in the face of the flames. Despite the fire above and around him he held his place and did not leave until every man was out of the mine Nothing is needed to gild or embellish so plain and heroic an action but the bravery of that engineer deserves due meed of applause and recognition Such courage is characteristic of the miner everywhere —(Mining and Scientific Press

A new electric motor weighing 2600 pounds has been taken to the Veteran tunnel by Robert Shaw's teams This motor will take the place of the old electric hoist which has been in the tunnel 13 years This hoist was the first electric mining hoist in the world and has done great work in its day The new motor is 27-horse power, and its introduction is a forerunner for increased work in the A M & S properties —(Aspen Tribune

A visitor from Central brings reports of a very encouraging strike made a few days ago in the Gettysburg mine At a depth of about 50 feet a vein of smelting ore 16 inches wide was uncovered that runs better than $50 a ton It is yellow copper and what is called white iron with a fair proportion of the variety known as peacock," which everyminer un there rejoices in finding when he strikes it The owners feel highly elated over the discovery Sixteen inches of that grade is a rather uncommon occurrence. While the value $50 a ton would be classed as medium, very fair quality, just barely good enough to ship in Cripple Creek estimation it amounts to a big strike in the fissures of the "little kingdom" In this instance, according to the gentlemen interviewed the smelting grade is reinforced by a strong vein of milling stuff that will run $10 to $15 under stamps He thinks the Gettysburg destined to become one of the leading producers of the district.—(Denver Post.

Walt Whitman

The dealings of criticism with the work of Walt Whitman afford an admirable crux for the testing of its different methods The sternly judicial critic finding the work utterly unlike any of the accepted methods exclaims this will never do with all the air of a Quarterly Reviewer engaged in the performance of a painful duty The chapman gift on the other hand delighted to browse in these new pastures and bent upon interpretation of whatever message the work may contain seeks first to make its intimate acquaintance and then his own curiously enriched takes the public attends its production to consider it, sometimes as a natural development in an established line, sometimes as the expression of a new tendency born of a changed environment or a fresh impulse given to the human intellect He is distinguished from the judge by the openness of mind with which he approaches the work and by the catholic temper of the opinion which he finally records. He is distinguished from the showman by enlisting the philosophical interests of his readers as well as their curiosity in the task of interpretation He may be all of that the judge and the showman are but he must also be something which they are not He looks before and after and views literary productions as members of a system rather than as sporadic appearances as links in a causal chain rather than as isolated phenomena Now the work of Whitman has been subjected to every possible sort of critical inspection By his fellow countrymen and the voluminous literary that has grown up about it serves to illustrate with unusual sharpness the several methods Leavingsentirely out of our survey the shallow fanatics who have bespattered Whitman a reputation with words of empty laudation he has been weighed and found wanting by the orthodox explored by the curious and explained by the philosophers —William Morton Payne in American Literary Criticism" in the International Monthly for July

Bubonic Plague

Dr Cyrus Edson, health officer for New York is a well-known authority regarding infectious diseases The International Monthly for July contains a history of the plague and a description of its symptoms and methods of resisting it We cull a few paragraphs of interest but the article itself should be largely read, as it will serve not only to allay fear but to show the importance of strict health measures

"All observers unite in fixing the period of incubation of the disease between two and eight days though a case has been mentioned in which the incubatory period could not have been

A Voice from the Trenches—July 4, 1900

Here in the steaming trenches,
In the town of Dagupan
In a rank of tattered khaki
Worn off in the midnight marches
Fevered and weak and ill
I see it shining before me—
The sword of Bunker Hill

They are
Way off in the States today
Rockets and Roman candles
Are dropping their fiery spray
But here with the bolo-hunters
And bullets whistling shrill
We are close to its sacred glory—
The sword of Bunker Hill

I hear the call of the bugle
The roll of the drummer's sticks
And my soldier blood goes dancing
To the tune of seventy six
With the strength of its steel immortal
I feel my pulse thrill
Columbia's blade of freedom
The sword of Bunker Hill

When the Maxims hold their thunder
We seek for our fallen comrades
In jungle and field of cane
And over their bleeding bosoms
And faces white and chill
We see in its silver splendor
The sword of Bunker Hill

Wrought in the heat of battle
Forged by the lightning's breath,
Unsheathed by patriot heroes
For liberty or death
God of the nation keep it
Bright and untarnished still
To guard the flag of our fathers—
The sword of Bunker Hill"

The Rapid Transit Problem.

Rapid transit between the business parts of cities and their suburbs is wholly a modern problem, it is virtually a recent problem and one which has taxed to its utmost the best engineering talent of the age The brilliant achievements of street railway engineers in the present generations have no more than kept pace with urgent necessities The solutions of the problem have brought glory to inventors and great fortunes to promoters And yet the problem growing faster than any solution of all the solutions together refuses to be finally solved In the great cities of Europe and Asia business is widely distributed in a multitude of small shops and factories but in American cities it is generally concentrated so that a large proportion of the people in business must go several miles from their homes to reach their places of employment

We sometimes look back on our fathers days in a kind of pitying way And yet the horsecars and omnibuses of 40 years ago were then more satisfactory and adequate conveniences in the streets of New York city than any underground or elevated railroad can be at the present time

The growth of American cities in the 19th century has been marvelous and it is continuing at about a constant rate For example the city of Brooklyn now a borough of Greater New York, has grown in population from 40 to 46 per cent every decade since 1860 the increase being quite regular from 290 000 in 1860 to 1 200 000 in 1890 The United States census in 1790 showed 210 873 persons living in six cities The census of this year will probably show 20 000 000 persons living in 600 cities There are young men in business now who will live to see Greater New York with 10 000 000 inhabitants Taking the figures of the last federal census it is seen that while the population of the whole country has increased twelve-fold in a century, the urban population has increased 87 fold This growth in cities means increase in the populated area of each city, and so the distances to be traveled from the residential suburbs to the business district are constantly increasing The density of population in the central parts of a city may also increase In New York city there is a maximum density of 1,000 residents to the acre and this is more than double that of the most congested cities of Europe —(George H Johnson, in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for July

DIFFERENT OCEANS

Double Distances and Slower Steamers in the Pacific.

Those who insist upon traveling regardless of expense and in the best company may yet hold all sea voyages as protracted nightmares, and they will seek the shortest route and the swiftest packet with little care for conscious existence on the high seas In other words, they travel as parcels sent by express rather than as intelligent passengers. Consequently they will continue to throng the great Atlantic ferry caring nothing for the lonely and primitive church of the wide grey ocean beyond the Golden Gate But there are some who renew their youth whenever they dream of sailing to the far east and the islands of the South Sea

Taking New York as the port of departure, we find the nearer ports of Europe at the following distances Queenstown 2 823 miles Liverpool 3 053 Havre 3 169 Gibraltar 3 504 All these are in nautical miles of course If any reason for reducing them to statute miles can be imagined these figures may be increased 15 per cent The circuit can be continued in the same direction to Yokohoma where the distance to San Francisco is 4 536 miles and to Vancouver or ports on Puget Sound some 150 miles less These estimates cover the shortest navigable routes in the Atlantic such routes are closely followed—except for a diversion of about 1,0 miles during the season of drifting ice, in the Pacific most steamers find their profit in touching at Honolulu which is 2 100 miles from San Francisco and 3,400 from Yokohoma so that the visit costs 1,000 miles of navigation

If more remote terminals are considered, we find steamers plying to Hamburg from New York in 3 600 miles to Antwerp, 3 370 miles and to Naples 4 149 miles. Steamers from San Francisco extend their voyage to Shanghai 6 700 miles and Hong Kong 7,500 miles, after leaving Japan Other lines cruise beyond the equator touching at Honolulu, Apia —Stevenson's second turn to the left —and Auckland on their way to Sydney and covering nearly 7,000 miles There is no traffic between the Pacific states and the Philippines by direct steamers, though Spanish and English lines connect them via Asia and Europe, and a Japanese line to Australia proposes to call at Manila The fleet of army transports merely makes the direct voyage in 6 715 miles It is convenient for them to coal at Nagasaki and reasons have been found for sending them to Guam and Honolulu, thus lengthening the track to 7 180

Translating distances into time suggests that artificial limitations delay passages across the Pacific While the run from New York to Queenstown has been cut close to five days, it requires 16 days to cross from San Francisco to Honolulu Thus thrice the time is required to make double the distance in the Pacific, the daily run falling from nearly 550 miles to something less than 350 Of course, this reduction rests on strict commercial principles Companies in the Pacific trade are not forced to renew their steamers in order to take advantage of the latest improvements in engineering In fact it is doubtful whether the old types of single screw steamers have not wasted coal, Yet it is certain that the saving of fuel is a controlling factor in the calculations of those who manage lines or ocean steamers and that they refrain from driving their vessels at full speed accordingly There is no need of citing a scientific formula to show that a moderate increase of speed multiplies resistance and its equivalents in power and fuel in a startling ratio High speed is an advertisement to attract passengers where freight is the main interest economy is inevitable Even the famous Peninsular and Oriental—though more largely subsidized than all the Transatlantic and Transpacific lines combined—is allowed to carry passengers and mails at a speed far below that demanded by the public which sails from New York Everywhere east of Suez and west of the Rocky Mountains coal is dear and time is a less costly object of consumption. Of course, millions of tons of freight and thousands of passengers are like-the world at the modest speed of 600 miles a day—But they do not boast of the experience"—(Lieut Commander. C. G. Calkins in Ainslee's

OUR SAMOAN STATION.

After various incidents, some perhaps regrettable the Samoan question has at last been settled by the new Samoan treaty, entirely, as we shall see, to the advantage of the United States

A review of the events by which this delightful little archipelago has been agitated during the last few years

part in the extremely difficult to treat on account of the rivalries political as well as religious Indeed it would be hard to find in the whole world a smaller field where so many opposite interests were engaged Three great powers to settle the destinies of such a small country! All the intrigues that originate in Apia the officials soon degenerate into a village rivalry the white population ning English and Germans had no sympathy one for the other and both mount This state of political and commercial rivalry might have lasted a long time
vacant through the death of Malietoa Laupepa the difficulty of finding him a successor acceptable to the various native parties (Atua Aana and Tuamasaga) and to the three powers complicating the situation From the native standpoint, the old Mataafa by his past, was the preferred candidate and competed successfully against young Tanu son of the deceased king and Tamasese, leader of the rebellion of 1894

Everything seemed to be settled, when occurred the strange conflicts caused by the refusal of Chief Justice Chambers to pronounce Mataafa ineligible which combined with the actions of Municipal Councilman Raffel and the too hasty decisions of Rear Admiral Kautz brought about conditions so threatening as to necessitate the formation of a commission whose investigations resulted in bringing to an end all this lame-diplomacy by the promulgation of a treaty which grants Tutuila to the United States

The Samoan archipelago is composed of three principal islands Tutuila, Upolu, Savaii, extending from S E. to N W in latitude 13—15 S and longitude 168—173 W, and representing a total area of about eleven hundred square miles, with a native population estimated at 36 000 Tutuila is the smallest and Savaii the smallest and Savaii the

From a colonial standpoint, this archipelago offers little or no interest, its whole value residing especially in the strategical importance from its central position in the Pacific, Being of volcanic formation, the country is extremely uneven, so that, with the exception of a few limited portions of Upolu it is but little adapted to the establishment of plantations Its soil cotton even vanilla grow there readily, but it is so rugged and invaded clear it for agricultural purposes becomes an onerous undertaking, as the ness and the plough is unavailing owing to the many obstacles The work must therefore be done by hand and in this respect the native population is useless The Samoans, still possessing the greater part of the land, have more than they need for their subsistence which, in addition to their natural pride, makes them but little inclined to work for the whites—so much so that the German firm (formerly Godefroi of Hamburg) is compelled to import laborers from New Britain and the Solomon islands to cultivate its three large centers at Mulifanua, Vaileie and Vaitele, the only plantations worthy of the name If one considers that its revenue is barely $40 000 a year and its general trade does not exceed $175 000, one will understand that a colony of this kind is more likely to be an expense than a source of revenue to its mother country. Its principal value lies, therefore, in the naval resources which it may afford, and in that respect there is but one good harbor in the whole archipelago—that of Pango Pango

INVENTION AND INSPIRATION.

The continuation of Th Ribot's article in the July issue of the International Monthly develops many interesting points Thus in writing of invention, which is a product of the mind, and which has been ascribed by some students of psychology as an instinct, so wonderful it seems and so unevenly granted to men, he shows that it is but the answering impulse of the brain call d into action by the demands of nature Every invention is born of some special need of human nature that acts in its sphere, and for its own peculiar end So what is called the unconscious factor comes into play "At its beginnings inspiration was attributed literally to the gods as among the Greeks for example, to Apollo and the Muses and this is true also of the various polytheistic religions Later this to supernatural spirits angels saints etc In one way or another the inspiration is always regarded as exterior, as superior to human nature At the beginning of all inventions (agriculture, navigation, medicine, commerce legislation, the fine arts etc) the belief in a revelation is present the human mind concludes that it is incapable or having created all these marvels The creation as is supposed burst forth all at once one does not know how by reason of his ignorance of the steps that have gone before

"Subsequently these superior beings are there remain only the poets who invoke them and that without believing in them, simply by force of tradition But along with these survivals of forms there exists a mysterious ultimate ground which is commonly explained by vague expressions and metaphors enthusiasm poetic frenzy possession. the wind bloweth where it listeth etc. One has given up the supernatural without endeavoring, however, to offer a positive explanation of the phenomena of Inspiration Finally, in the third phase one essays to fathom this unknown The psychologist sees there a peculiar manifestation of mind, a singular condition half conscious, half unconscious which we must now study.

First of all and contemplated under its negative form, inspiration presents a very clearly defined character; it does not depend upon the will of the individual Just as for sleep or digestion, we may try certain measures for inviting favoring prolonging the inspiration, but we do not always succeed. Inventors both great and small, never grow weary in complaining of those periods of sterility to which they are subjected against their will The more sagacious of them await the peculiar moment while others less wise, struggle against their evil fate, and endeavor to create against nature

"Considered under its positive aspect, inspiration has two essential signs, suddenness, impersonality.

"Even those subjected to continual consciousness of sad events which have thrown a shadow over their lives which they attempt in vain to cast off, are at times capable of obtaining moments of relaxation and relief from their sorrow, as Dubois-Reymond has said I has had in my time some happy moments and I have observed that they came to me involuntarily, when I was not thinking of them Inspiration may be considered as a mitigated form of a state which is the triumph of the subconscious activity, and a case of double or alternate personality."

Origin of the Bubonic Plague.

Between the years 1783 and 1844 21 epidemics of plague occurred in Egypt. In India for a long period the plague has been even more common than the cholera The present prevalence of the disease is believed to be due to the outbreak that occurred in Bombay in 1896-7 It seems more probable however, that the doubtful distinction of having started the epidemic belongs to China, which has always been the fountain head of the plagie and where it has always existed The great tidal waves of the disease that have started on their devastating careers from some province in China finally overspreading distant cities of continental Europe teach us that the welfare of our most distant neighbors is intimately bound up in our own and that the microbe is indeed a "social leveller" It is a well established fact that all infectious diseases and their most prolific conditions in unsanitary localities and

It is no wonder that the unconquerable reputation of Chickering pianos among musical people, coupled with our tremendous sales of this, the world's greatest piano, should make our competitors a little cross and envious. The Chickering piano of today is not only the best piano Chickering & Son have ever made, but it is the best piano anyone ever made. We do not handle a "parasite" called "Chickering" made on the real reputation of the great Chickering of Boston. We are selling the Chickering at tremendous discounts during the great Ten Day Sale.
